BETTS LIBRARY

CODE A ROBOT

SATURDAY 4/6 2:30 PM

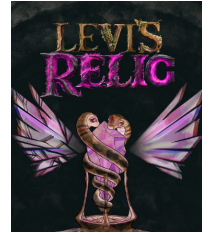

Robots will be roaming our Community Room! CNY Robotics will be here with their robots and coding gear. They need to be programmed to move in the right direction and to move the right way—want to help? Kids and up.

LEVI'S RELIC

WEDNESDAY 4/24 1:30 PM

Redhouse's traveling live musical performance with puppets and songs for elementary-aged children. Levi's Relic, an original play, is a powerful story that teaches children the dangers of looking to substances to feel whole, and how to help family and friends get help if they are struggling.

SPECIAL EVENT:

NATIVE AUTHORS READ ALOUD

SUNDAY APRIL 28
2:00-4:00 PM

Oñgwaga•ä' Writer's Workshop and Betts Library are excited to welcome two award-winning Native Authors for a special Read Aloud Event. Laurel Goodluck is the author of the children's books Rock Your Mocs and Too Much: My Great Big Native Family. Marcie Rendon is the author of the Cash Blackbear Series, including the award-winning Murder on the Red River, as well as the mind behind Raving Native Theater.

KINDRED KINGDOMS

THURSDAY 4/25 2:30 PM

Kindred Kingdoms is a wildlife rehabilitation center that specializes in nurturing injured and vulnerable birds of prey. There will be a slideshow featuring their work, focusing on particular successes, and bringing some of the birds in their care! All ages.

FLOWER CROWNS

MONDAY 4/22 3:00 PM

Bring on the spring vibes by making your own flower crown! We will have a supply of faux flowers and ribbons to choose from, but feel free to bring in any of your own materials as well. Tweens and up.

Quillan Cappello is a nine-year-old animal rights activist and artist whose paintings center around a love of nature, science, creepy-crawly creatures, and mythology. Quillan's work will be up throughout the month of April. Join us on Sunday, April 21st, from 2:00 - 4:00 PM for a closing party where we will enjoy some light refreshments and hear the stories behind the paintings!
